

Temperature Controlled Deliveries

Chillspeed Comes Of Age!

Chillspeed of Diss, the Norfolk based temperature controlled courier firm celebrates its 21st Birthday this year, making it almost certainly the longest established player in this sector of the refrigerated transport industry. Founded in 1986, the business changed hands in 1997, which means the current proprietor, Mr Geoff Lazell is enjoying something of a double celebration, having now 'been at the steering wheel' for 10 years.

During these past 10 years, Chillspeed has grown from its humble origins with just one small van into a thriving concern with a healthy reputation for reliability and service of the highest quality. With a variety of different sized vehicles up to 3.5 Tonnes gross weight to suit individual customers' needs, Chillspeed operates throughout the UK and in many parts of Europe. From

During these past 10 years, Chillspeed has grown from its humble origins with just one small van into a thriving concern with a healthy reputation for reliability and service of the highest quality.

Northern Ireland to southern Germany and from eastern Sweden to western France, these vehicles have clocked up nearly 3 million miles in the last 10 years alone.

"These past 10 years have certainly flown by," says Geoff, who personally manages the business himself, backed up by a team of highly experienced, well presented, mature drivers. Geoff maintains that the key to success is building a team which shares a common goal – customer satisfaction. He adds, "We do try very hard 'to go that extra mile' in every sense of the phrase and I am very proud of what we continue to achieve in an increasingly competitive market place." Having delivered cheese to Prince Charles at Sandringham and strawberries to The Queen at Buckingham Palace, Geoff considers that Chillspeed can justly claim to be 'the jewel in the crown' of temperature controlled deliveries! ☐☐☐ RE21
